GO DEEPER

- Passover was such an important moment for the Israelites that God commanded His people to reflect and remember, making it a day of memorial. What pivotal moments with God in your own life are worth remembering?

- We see in scripture where the blood over the homes of God's people would mark them and be a sign setting them apart. Ultimately, we know that deliverance from sin would come through the blood of Jesus. Christ blood shed would be a sign of deliverance and redemption. for you and me. As believers in faith what visible signs in our own life are a result from Jesus shedding His blood at Calvary? Maybe a more direct question for us would be, what signs as followers set us apart from the world?

- Ritual sacrifices in the Old Testament were a foreshadowing to the ultimate sacrifice of Christ. Compare the parallel imagery of Jesus and the passover lamb. Share your thoughts of what is most significant to you about this picture in your life today?

Passover is a reminder of God's redemption of Israel from slavery in Egypt that ultimately points to our redemption from slavery in sin. The Old Testament sacrifices were a foreshadowing of the perfect sacrifice to come. Christ becomes THE Passover Lamb. When we take part in this new Passover, we remember a greater exodus.
